GEN. MILES TALKS.

A Full and Free Expression of His Views.

RECENT MILITARY CHANGES.

Very Pronounced Ideas on Coast
Defenses—Immediate Action
Imperatively Demanded—A National Necessity.

Major-General Nelson A. Miles, recently transferred from the command of the Division of the Pacific, with headquarters at San Francisco, to the command of the Division of the Missouri, with headquarters at Chicago, stopped over for a day or two at Portland, Ore., on his way East, and when in that city was interviewed at length by a reporter of the Oregonian, which interview was published on the morning of September 6th.

In regard to the recent changes in the several military divisions, and his own transfer, Gen. Miles was asked to explain the situation thoroughly, and in reply to questions, said:

My transfer from San Francisco to Chicago is incident to the death of General Crook, which left a vacancy in the senior command of the division of the Missouri, I, ranking next in the order of promotion, was assigned to this command. By this transfer a vacancy was made in the division of the Pacific, the General Gibbon, who was then senior officer on the coast, took my place in San Francisco. The department of the Columbia will remain a distinct and separate organization as it always has been, though still a part of the division of the Pacific.

Who will succeed General Gibbon? Well, that is entirely a matter of speculation. Yes, General Brooks, who at present is in command of the department of the Platte, has been spoken of in connection with this post. He may be transferred to Vancouver, and he may not. It all lays with the War Department what the change will be.

The Division of the Pacific, of which I take leave now, includes the department of the Pacific, the department of the Columbia, and the department of Arizona. It numbers about 6000 troops. The Division of the Missouri, which I am assuming command, embraces the department of Dakota, the department of the Platte, which at one time was detached from this command, and the department of Texas. Numerically it is stronger than the Division of the Pacific, for at present it numbers about 7000 troops.

General Miles also gave his views on the necessity of more complete coast defenses at considerable length. The General has a consistent advocate of coast defenses, and his ideas on the subject are very pronounced. Among other things, he said:

My ideas on coast defenses were set forth in full in my last annual report. They also found expression in my testimony before the Senate committee on the subject of which Senator Dolph is chairman. I stated fully the real condition of affairs and the needs of the Pacific coast. What was said in respect to the coast of good as to the Atlantic coast. The fact of the matter is our country is practically at the mercy of every other country that possesses a modern navy. It is not a desirable position to be in, any more than it is for a merchant to have his goods subject to the plundering of burglars through a neglect to protect them with lock and key.

What few fortifications we have are thirty years behind the age, and are of as much value for actual service as the bow and arrow against modern rifle. If other nations used modern weapons of war, they would compel the United States to use the same or subject the country to capture and plunder. This is a fact that is too plain for the German government has armed its entire army during the past year and a half. Even in small arms, other countries are using rifles that are more effective than ours, smaller in calibre, lighter in weight, and of longer range. As to the larger guns, the difference is far greater—so much so that there is no comparison between the two.

Our navy is constructed of small number of guns now to arm our cruisers, that are effective as far as they go, but no steps have as yet been taken to equip the navy with guns of a larger calibre. Senator Dolph has taken a great deal of interest in this matter, and if his arguments prevail it will result in much benefit to this coast. The army and navy are yet separated, and the more effective guns that are being used in establishing the defenses of other military and naval powers. There has been some talk of organizing a board to investigate the merits of modern guns, but no board has been organized. The project still remains in statu quo.

As to the most favorable locations for military posts on the Pacific Coast, Gen. Miles named: Point Sound, the mouth of the Columbia River, San Francisco, San Diego, and possibly Santa Barbara and San Pedro. He thinks the fortifications already in existence are good enough, but the guns he believed to be of little use. It would cost, however, in his opinion, an annual expenditure of $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 for four years to give the Pacific coast a respectable start on a proper system of coast defenses, but it will require the labor of years to properly equip the entire coast. "There seems to be," he said, "more interest taken in the matter of coast defenses with the more general spread of information. The work will never be done, however, until the people understand the position the country is in, and the actual necessity for taking such action. As long as they are kept in ignorance and allowed to retain erroneous impressions that have long obtained, judgment in their minds nothing of any consequence in this direction can be expected."

"No one presumes for a moment that there is danger of any foreign army invading our country, but that is no reason why our largest seaport towns and the communities of the country should be so exposed that any other nation can step in and take possession should possible emergencies arise. Simply because so many people live so far from the seaboard is no reason why they should not take an interest in the welfare of seaport cities. People living in seaports certainly take an interest in the welfare of the agricultural districts, and this interest should be mutual."

As touching on the Bering Sea controversy, Gen. Miles thought the physical condition of our country was not the best for basing a possible argument on the question. "It is all a matter of speculation," he said. "But," added he, as a new thought struck him, "the mere capture of Canada would be a trifle as compared to the capture of our commercial cities and harbors."

Gen. Miles does not think that there is any probability of the military post at Vancouver being discontinued, and that if any new navy yard is established it will be somewhere on Puget Sound. As to the proposed ordnance factory for the Pacific coast, that matter will probably be settled by a board of officers especially appointed for the purpose, and for this reason he declined to express himself as to the best place, in his opinion, for its location.

Lighting the City.

A meeting of the Gas and Light Committee of the Council was called to meet in the office of the Board of Public Works yesterday afternoon to draw up new plans and specifications for lighting the city. Most of the committee were on hand, together with representatives of the electric light company, but owing to the fact that President Frankfield of the Council was engaged with the Police Commissioners, an adjournment was had to this morning at 10 o'clock, at the same place. It is claimed that the lights are not evenly distributed over the city, and that some thickly settled sections are almost in total darkness, and that there should be a general overhauling of the system to adjust it to present demands.

A HARD FALL.

A Workman on Maple Avenue is Seriously Injured.

Last evening at 5:30 Al Spears, one of the workmen on the Pico-street electric road, had a narrow escape from death. He was adjusting the wires and stood on an elevated platform drawn by horses, when he struck a cross wire and, as the horses did not stop in time, the whole thing was thrown violently to the ground. Spears fell a distance of about twenty feet and was considerably bruised about the legs and body but no bones were broken. He was picked up by his companions and sent home, where his bruises were dressed. The accident occurred on Maple avenue. Spears was suffering considerable pain last night and it is believed that he was injured internally.

POLITICAL.

THE FORMAL OPENING OF THE CAMPAIGN SATURDAY.

Meeting of Representative Republicans to Act With the County Committee—Torchlight Procession and Fireworks.

The Republicans are making extensive arrangements for the formal opening of the campaign in this city on Saturday evening next, when Hon. M. M. Estee and Hon. J. B. Reddick will be here. Hazard's Pavilion has been secured for the speaking, and there will be a torchlight procession and fireworks. Although the time is comparatively short in which to get out the full strength of the party, the occasion promises to be one of the most enthusiastic political events in the history of the county.

A meeting of representative Republicans, to act with the County Central Committee, was held in the office of Judge W. F. Fitzgerald, in the Bonebrake-Bryson block, yesterday afternoon, to arrange the preliminaries and set the ball a-rolling. Among those present were Maj. George H. Bonebrake, Walter S. Moore, Hervey Lindsey, L. E. Mosher, Col. H. O. O'Connell, Thomas A. Lewis, H. T. Payne, J. A. Kelly, Gen. E. P. Johnson, Judge W. F. Fitzgerald, Fred Eaton and N. B. Walker.

Maj. Bonebrake presided, and Walter S. Moore acted as secretary. Committees were appointed on music and fireworks, and 500 torches were ordered at once by telegraph. L. E. Mosher was elected grand marshal for the parade, and he has appointed Thomas A. Lewis chief of staff. Judge A. B. Brunson will be president of the meeting by appointment of the County Committee's executive body.

The secretary was instructed to send invitations at once to the clubs at Pasadena, Whittier, Santa Monica, San Pedro and all other clubs throughout the county, and in case any club is overlooked and does not receive a formal invitation, it is invited to be present without further notice, and, if possible, to bring a band that there may be plenty of music.

The Democrats are holding daily meetings, getting things in shape for their meeting on the 17th inst., and they intend to give their candidates a great reception. Quite a crowd, it is said, will go to the Congress Convention at San Diego on Monday next, when, it is said, that Senator L. J. Rose will receive the nomination on the first ballot.

There will be a meeting of the delegates from Los Angeles city to the late Republican State Convention at Sacramento at the Oro Fino Club rooms on Main street, tomorrow evening for the purpose of electing a State Central Committee. A full attendance is desired.

The Republicans of the Ninth Ward met Tuesday evening at Hendricks's Hall, Boyle Heights, and formed a Republican club. Dr. W. W. Murphy was elected president, R. B. Young vice-president, Fred H. Teale secretary, and George Ferguson treasurer. Speeches were made by E. E. Galbreth, Judge McComas and others. The club meets again Friday night at Hendricks's Hall, and proposes to make things howl in the Ninth Ward. All Republicans are invited.

The Lincoln Flambeau Club organized last evening at their rooms, corner of Adams and Main streets, electing R. Cheek captain. After drilling they adjourned till Friday evening.

THE HORTICULTURISTS.

A Permanent Organization Effected—Objects of the Association.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock the Horticultural Association of Southern California met in the secretary's office of the Chamber of Commerce, with President Hamilton in the chair and Secretary Kercheval present. After some discussion the temporary officers were made permanent, and it was decided to hold monthly meetings.

The object of the association is to secure more uniform action from all horticulturists in the district, to discuss methods of using disinfectants, etc., and to secure the necessary amendments to the law under which county boards of horticultural commissioners are organized.

The association is becoming quite strong and will be able to do much good in Southern California, as something of the kind has been needed for a long time.

Stole a Bottle of Wine.

Yesterday afternoon an old man named James McFarland entered the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Main street, and while taking in the exhibit "nipped" a bottle of wine. Secretary Hanchette happened to see him and telephoned for an officer, when McFarland was arrested and locked up on a charge of petty larceny. The old man stated that he had only been in the city a short time, having come down from the San Joaquin Valley.

THE RAILROADS.

All of the Overland Trains on Time.

FREIGHT COMING IN RAPIDLY.

The Los Angeles and Pacific Plant—The Santa Fe Bridge—Work Stopped at Santa Monica.

All of the passenger trains on both the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe, from the East were on time yesterday. The damage done by washouts in Arizona on the line of the Southern Pacific have been repaired and the freight trains that have been delayed during the past few days will probably be in today. There is more freight now on the road than ever before at this season of the year. East-bound freight has been rushed through, but the company has had considerable bad luck with west-bound freight on account of the washouts. The road is now thoroughly repaired, and as the rainy season is about over in Arizona, they do not anticipate any more trouble.

THE SANTA FE BRIDGE.

General Manager K. H. Wade of the Santa Fe's lines in California was seen yesterday regarding the bridge over the Los Angeles River at Buena Vista street.

"We are anxious to raise the bridge, not only for the safety of the city but also on our own account, but the city bridge just over us is in such condition that we can do nothing unless we change the location of our bridge. I have had the City Engineer down there and pointed out to him the danger as the bridges are now situated, but nothing has been done. As soon as the city bridge is repaired we will go to work on ours."

LOS ANGELES AND PACIFIC.

The electric road people who have arranged to put in a plant for the old Los Angeles and Pacific road to Santa Monica, are expected to reach this city in a few days, when they will go to work. They claim that they will have it ready for the rolling stock in 60 days after they begin work.

The people along the foothills are wild about this scheme and say they can furnish business enough to more than pay the running expenses of the road.

WINE MEN WORKED UP.

The wine men of Southern California are considerably worked up over a little trick that has been played on them by several railroad freight men, who have been giving them away to the United States revenue officers.

Under the present law the officers have no right to examine the wine men's stock, and how much wine they are shipping. The officers made up their minds to get around this, so they visited the freight men and secured the figures. Why they want these figures is not known, but it has raised quite a row in railroad circles as the wine men complain at headquarters and threatened to give their business to some road that will not break faith with them. The matter is now being investigated by the railroad magnates and several heads may be chopped off in freight circles within the next few weeks.

NOTES.

For some reason the Southern Pacific Company has ordered work stopped on the Santa Monica wharf. They got pile drivers, material, etc., on the ground and then ordered the men to stop work indefinitely.

The Santa Monica people do not understand the move. It is possible that the company is about to gather in Redondo, the Redondo Railroad and the Rapid Transit road, as Mr. Towne has been figuring on a road from the sea to Wilson's Peak for some time past.

Division Superintendent Muir of the Southern Pacific left for San Francisco on No. 20 last night. He will be absent a week or ten days.

If business keeps increasing at the Wolfskill depot as it has during the past six months, the building will have to be enlarged. As soon as President Huntington saw it he stated that it is too small for the town.

HON. J. DE BARTH SHORE.

He Discusses Water and Politics—His Future Plans.

Hon. J. de Barth Shore, who has been talked of during the past few days as a probable candidate for Congress from the Sixth District on the Democratic ticket, returned from the North yesterday and was seen by a Times reporter in the afternoon.

"A number of my friends have spoken to me on the subject," said Mr. Shore, "but I have not thought seriously of the matter. All through the San Joaquin Valley in this district the irrigation people are crazy to have me make the race, and the wine men have asked me to come out, but I have several big plans on foot, which will occupy my whole time for several years and I do not see how I can spare the time for politics. I am confident that this is a good time to make the race on the Democratic ticket and I know I could be elected, but I am too deep in business to think of it."

Mr. Shore will probably not attend the Democratic Convention at San Diego. At present he is so occupied with the water question that he thinks it will be impossible for him to think of his party. In speaking of the water plans he said: "Within sixty days I am confident we will be at work in this city, and we will soon be ready to give the people the purest water in the State. It will be piped all the way to the city and when it reaches the houses it will be as pure as when it leaves the mountains. We have a supply sufficient to furnish the whole country, and as we intend to put in the finest plant in the United States, the people of this city will not have a chance to complain about the quality or price. My associates and I have been working on this plan for several years and we know what we are doing."

Detective A. B. Lawson and his brother Charles, who stabbed Capt. Moody, Monday night, appeared before Justice King yesterday morning, and were arraigned on a charge of assault to murder. Both the defendants were anxious for an immediate examination, but the prosecution was not ready, and after some talk, Justice King said he did not feel justified in letting the case go. He was assured that the complaining witness would be able to appear, and the case was accordingly continued, the Lawsons in the meantime being out on bail.

Capt. Moody is still in the receiving hospital at the City Prison, and it will be several days before it will be safe to remove him to his home. He was doing very well last evening, and while suffering some pain, was cheerful and hopeful, and does not anticipate any serious results.

BOTH DISCHARGED.

The Abbott and Silverstein Women Again at Large.

Carrie Abbott and Maud Silverstein, the notorious Alameda-street court-lans, arrested several days ago on a charge of robbing a man named Henry Brown, who visited their place, of $40, were examined before Justice King and discharged. The prosecuting witness failed to make out his case—that is, to show any direct evidence connecting the women with the theft, and on motion of District Attorney Phibbs the charges were dismissed.

In granting the motion Justice King said that he was very loth to let the defendants go, especially as some of the city papers had intimated that nothing would come of the case, but in the absence of any evidence, and on the motion of the District Attorney, he was compelled to take this action.

There is no doubt on the part of the officers that Brown was robbed, and that one of the women got the money. Both of them have frequently been arrested on the same charge before, but they have always managed to get out of their scrapes. The Abbott woman some months ago robbed a young German named Fuertkamp of some two hundred dollars, which belonged to his employers. She was arrested, but gave bonds and left town, and only returned after committing suicide by jumping off a ferryboat in San Francisco Bay.

The Silverstein woman is equally notorious, and the police authorities have ordered them to leave town, which they will probably do. In case they remain, steps will be taken for their further prosecution.

SAN PEDRO.

Funeral of the Late E. M. Phelps—Impressive Services.

SAN PEDRO, Sept. 10.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The funeral of the late E. M. Phelps, president of the Board of City Trustees, who died on Monday, took place today. He was a member of the A. O. U. W., of the G. A. R., and of various other orders, all of which, together with all the officers of the city government, appeared in the procession which followed his remains to the tomb. The services were held at his late residence, at 3 o'clock, where a suitable address was made by Rev. Mills, the lately elected pastor of the Presbyterian Church here, after which a procession was formed, which followed the remains to the grave. The burial took place in the Wilmington Cemetery, and nearly fifty carriages were in line. All business places in the city were closed during the afternoon in respect to the memory of the deceased, who had the universal respect of this community, in which he had lived ever since long before San Pedro was settled. He had been president of the Board of Trustees from the first incorporation of the city, and was well and favorably known to all old-timers in Southern California.

Mr. Phelps was 45 years old at the time of his death. He served in one of the first cavalry regiments of Massachusetts, during the late war and contracted the disease, rheumatism, of which he finally died, after years of intense suffering, most bravely and uncomplainingly borne. He leaves a wife and a large circle of friends to mourn his untimely death, who have the unfeigned sympathy of this entire community, who join with them in grief for the loss of a good citizen, a true friend, a kind husband and an honest man.

Dr. Peterson, of whose sudden attack on the 31st of August mention has been made in this correspondence, is still lying quite ill at the residence of Merick Reynolds, where he is attended by his family. He is slowly improving, and his friends will be glad to know that he is in a fair way to entirely recover from his attack, which at first bid fair to be fatal.

FRATERNAL TOILERS.

Principles of the National Printers' Protective Fraternity.

From "The Fraternity," the official organ of the National Printers' Protective Fraternity, a handsome monthly published at Kansas City, Mo., we extract the following

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES.

Whereas, parties to a contract must seek a basis of agreement in order to make an equitable contract for mutual benefit, and as employers and employees are parties to a contract who must rely on each other for the accomplishment of a common purpose, so these two parties should be allied in their interests and a correct basis for a contract, for the better furtherance of their mutual interest, and the surer and more perfect adjustment of those differences which may arise between them as contracting parties.

Experience has shown that the organization of the labor element in this country, for the interest of both parties, is much that, if properly organized and controlled, it furnishes the means for the protection of the workman against the oppression and wrongs of unscrupulous employers, as well as of both employer and employee against the selfish schemes and dishonest practices of individual workmen.

We do not believe that the best interests of the laborer and the true object of organized labor have been subserved, but rather interfered with, by the methods resorted to by labor organizations of the past.

We do not believe that the mutual interests of capital and labor can be furthered by their taking positions of antagonism to each other, or that the differences between them can be properly settled by the force of lockouts, strikes and boycotts.

We believe that these methods have proven failures for the purposes for which they have been resorted to, and are also destructive of the individual freedom of the workman, whom we declare to have a natural right to the control of his own labor, as well as the capitalist has to the control of his own money—within the bounds of the common needs and the public good.

We believe that organized labor can in this day and country safely appeal to arbitration for the satisfaction of its just demands, and that this mode of settlement will be the best for both capital and labor and the general welfare of the country.

We believe that labor organizations should be able to furnish employers with good and reliable workmen, and to demand and secure therefor fair pay and good treatment; that it should provide its members with employment and protect them therein, and that it should aid its members and their families in time of want, sickness or death.

We believe in providing a system of sick and mortuary benefits for our members and their families.

These principles are rational, sound and must prevail in the end. The journal from which we quote after reprinting a full account of the recent so-called "union" strike in the offices of the Times and Herald, goes on to say:

The union printers of Los Angeles made a mistake and now realize it after it is too late. Strikes are no longer popular. Experience has taught the public that they are not the method by which labor troubles are settled. The further history of the case will be found in the correspondence from Los Angeles on another page.

the aid of such non-union printers as they could secure, got out their papers. In the meantime telegraphic communication was opened with the chief organizer of the Printers' Protective Fraternity, and after some correspondence a foreman and twelve good men were sent to the aid of the above paper.

Mr. T. P. Brown, who has for many years formalized the Kansas City Journal, went out as foreman, and those who know him have no fears for the ultimate success of the enterprise in Los Angeles. By the next issue of The Fraternity we expect to have the pleasure of chronicling the organization of Los Angeles Printers' Protective Fraternity.

The above extended account shows that the strike was not of the publishers' seeking; they were willing to do any fair thing by their own force, but they could not entirely surrender their business to the union. In conclusion it is to be noted that the fraternity men are working on the old scale of 50 cents per thousand ems.

WHAT THEY SAY.

From Los Angeles correspondence to the same journal we quote:

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 16.—We are here. We have good situations. We got 50 cents. We were met by our employer and asked if we wanted protection. We told him it was unnecessary, as we were able to take care of ourselves. This aggregation of incompetent payers, labor takes a kind of copy of the book and sets it without asking any questions; and the "matter" really "lifts" when the makeup goes to put it in the form. Work is good, and by proper attention to business we can get this whole town. We will organize a fraternity within a week, just as soon as we get rested from the fatigue of the long ride. The first strike on straight cases Thursday (second) night was 9300. Pretty good for "isompenent" Mr. Field. Keep your eyes ears open for the coast. "The world do move—the stars have said it."

ONE OF THEM. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 23.—The Fraternity claims the world as its field. Dispute or local cuts no figure in the march of its principles.

California has again been invaded, and only a few miles north of San Diego, where the presence of the Fraternity is well known, exists and flourishes, another batch of the seed has been sown, and although only a few days since consigned to earth, that seed has already begun to grow. The Fraternity is printed another young and vigorous fraternity tree will offer its sheltering foliage to those who have so long been traversing the hot sands on the Desert of Tyranny.

We have never yet been set back. We have always gone ahead, from the start and at a most surprising rate. Our present prospects are especially out here—are simply astonishing!

The record of our boys for the first night is something remarkable, considering the fact that they went directly to work after traveling 2300 miles.

Every man has stuck to his post since, and at the present time things are moving more smoothly than ever before. The proprietors are very well pleased with the fraternity and its representatives sent out here. The boys have no trouble in making good, and the trade is considerably better to handle. And the climate is something new and refreshing to all from the East who have never before been in this section. All seem happy and content. Living is reasonable here, too, and good board is secured at $5.50 and $6 per week; and the finest fruit in the world and plenty of it goes with every meal.

The Fraternity publishes, among many bright editorial paragraphs, the following:

The fraternity is not a close corporation, nor a monopoly of any kind, and you need not fear to take any interest upon any subject of interest to the craft. A place will be found for it.

The fraternity is not a "back-door" organization, neither is it an underground in its operation; consequently the employer and employee are safe under its jurisdiction. Two union men chasing one situation—two situations chasing one fraternity man. This is about the status of affairs at present.

There is a great field for the fraternity to work in. The grain is ripe and more harvesters are needed.

We are not fighting union printers, but the arbitrary methods of trades unionism.

Printers' Fraternity.

(Los Angeles Herald.)

The fly on the wheel is one of Esop's clever fables, which has been, by the way, very aptly illustrated by the Typographical Union of this city. They started out on the assumption that they controlled the whole machinery of the newspaper offices in Los Angeles; and the fly's "See What a Dust I Raise," was more than rivaled by the arrogance of the Typographical Union. According to their plan, the proprietor was to have absolutely no interest in his own property. His right to breathe the air would doubtless soon have been brought in question if the aggression of this most imperious Union had been unrestrained. Fortunately there were some publishers in Los Angeles who declined to submit to such arbitrary and merciless dictation. Of these were the Herald and Times. In assertion of their manhood, the publishers of these journals made the best arrangements they could for the nonce, and then proceeded to organize offices on equitable principles that were to last for all time. The two journals named will be set up and printed by the "Printers' Protective Fraternity." This organization is as good as the other, and better, for it does not pretend to control a man's business. All it asks for is fair wages for good work. By the rules of its organization it does not seek to put publishers in whole. It does not assume to decide all questions itself, in a Czar-of-Russia, no-appeal manner. If differences arise between the publishers and the Printers' Protective Fraternity, the principle of the order is to refer them to arbitration. Strikes are severely discountenanced; and, if one is finally resolved upon, the publisher is served with ten days' notice before hand. This is a striking difference from that peculiar action of the Typographical Union, which arranged its strike at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, so that the chance of the publishers getting any assistance was reduced to a minimum. Fortunately, this cunning plan failed; but the strictness of the attempted exactions of the Typographical Union show how necessary it was that a better and counter organization should make its appearance.

Chinaman Killed. A Chinaman named John Pin was killed on the Southern Pacific track at San Fernando yesterday afternoon. News of the occurrence was received by the Coroner last evening. An inquest will be held today. The man was a section hand, and was at work along the track when a push engine came down upon him and crushed him under its wheels.

Pampas Grass Plumes.

The annual pampas season is at hand and the plumes are now being prepared for the market.

It is a beautiful sight to see the long white plumes spread out on the ground to dry, which usually takes about three hours. From a distance they very much resemble a cotton field and the sight is very striking.

There are only about half-a-dozen places in the United States where the plumes are grown for the market, and the process for curing and packing them is novel and interesting and attracts many visitors.

Last week the average number of hands employed was 50, ranging from a little more than babies to grandmothers and grandfathers. On an average 25,000 plumes are cured each day.

Recent very trustworthy calculations of the population of the Chinese Empire by Russian authorities reckon it at 382,000,000, and the annual increase at 4,000,000.

SCARCELY eight months ago a medical discovery was placed upon the market bearing the title "THE GREAT SIERRA KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE," and whose virtue was claimed to be the cure of kidney and liver complaints. ITS INTRODUCTION WAS THE SIGNAL FOR ONE OF THE GREATEST SUCCESSSES ever achieved by a patent medicine on the Pacific Coast, as the afflicted quickly ascertained that it was far more efficacious and beneficial than had been claimed, as THE MOST WONDERFUL CURES WERE ACCOMPLISHED IN SUCH A BRIEF TIME as to seem MIRACULOUS. The testimony of hundreds who have been lifted from sickness and misery to health and happiness bears no uncertain sound, and they join in glowing testimonials of universal praise, hoping thereby to induce other unfortunates to drink of the font which restores that which is priceless—health. ONE TRIAL WILL CONVINCE THE MOST DESPAIRING THAT AT LAST A DISCOVERY HAS BEEN MADE which will restore a disorganized system and bring glowing health out of pale and sorrow decline. Speaker Reed Returns to the Capital in Triumph.

Railroad Companies to Forfeit Their Mineral Lands.

The Agricultural Department's Crop Reports Show a General Reduction in Averages—Other News.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] In the Raum investigation today Chairman Morrill proceeded to pass upon the question raised as to the relevancy of testimony offered yesterday by Mr. Cooper relating to the character of the Refrigerator Company's stock, and ruled it out. Mr. Lewis, a minority member, entered a protest.

Assistant Chief Bryant of the Pension Office testified that the completed cases order expedited settlement of some claims and retarded others. More claims had been adjudicated under the order than before it had been made. He knew of no preference shown to any particular attorney. To Commissioner Raum the witness said that while there had been a larger output of claims under the new order than before, there had been greater haste in the preparation of cases and much rivalry between the clerks. He did not say that the work had been improperly done, but he called attention to the fact that some examiners were disposing of claims in less time than they could be properly considered.

The Commissioner wished to know whether the witness had tried to put a stop to it. Witness replied he had not thought of putting a stop to it. The 55,000 cases put on the completed files by the office had been selected without partiality.

Judge Wilson said it had been stated that Mr. Cooper had signed a large number of blank calls upon the Pension Office for a firm of pension attorneys and he would like to have seen Mr. Cooper make a statement about it.

Mr. Cooper said he authorized his clerk to sign a large number of calls for a pension firm in his district, understanding that it had been the custom. Perhaps there were 1500 or 2000 calls signed with his name. When he came to Washington he spoke to Chief Durnan in the Pension Office about it and he doubted whether it was fair to call up cases in that way, but he must act for his constituents. Durnan told him to sign the slips and he would do what he could with them. Mr. Cooper did not think the slips were equivalent to a Congressional call, but the attorneys he signed for had been neglected. He was told that Lemon at that time had practically the control of the Pension Office. Witness felt then and now that if he could do anything to help his people he ought to do it. He felt that they had not a fair chance with attorneys in Washington. Mr. Cooper asked the committee to pass upon his resolution to extend the scope of the investigation. No decision was made and the committee adjourned.

CROP REPORTS.

The Averages for Grain Generally Much Reduced.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] The Department of Agriculture furnishes the following crop report:

The yield of spring wheat is unusually variable in the Dakotas, ranging from a high yield to five bushels and less per acre. On the Atlantic coast there is an improvement in corn since August 1st; a decline has occurred in New York, Illinois and all Northwestern States. The crop is late in the Eastern States, requiring much warmer weather throughout September. It is also late and variable in development in New York and Pennsylvania. The Atlantic coast States return a relatively high condition, impaired really by the effects of midsummer drought, and later by storms. In Tennessee and Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas drought reduced the condition too low for subsequent recovery. The Ohio and Missouri Valleys report protracted drought and low condition. While the rains of the last two weeks of August were beneficial, they have not restored the losses of the first half of the month. The lowest condition is in Kansas, though some eastern counties make good returns. The Dakotas and Nebraska are a little higher. The crop is late and variable as much time to mature on the latitude of 40° as for earlier varieties grown on the line of 42°.

Returns of the condition of winter wheat at the time of harvesting were less favorable than at the 1st of July. So far as threshing has progressed the results are generally disappointing. The July average was 70.3 per cent, average, 70.3. The September average for spring wheat is also reduced from 83.2 to 79.8. The average for wheat of both kinds is 75.5. In 1889 the September average for wheat was 77. It was 73 in 1888. The rye yield is less than was expected. The condition as reported is reduced to 85.4. The September condition of oats is the lowest ever reported, having fallen from 70.1 in August to 64.4. The rate of yield will be the smallest in 20 years.

The condition of barley is not seriously lower, from 83.8 to 78.6. The condition has fully maintained its August condition, the average being 80.5 against 80.1.

The figures for potatoes have fallen since August 1st from 77.4 to 65.7, the lowest average yield ever reported, that of 1887 being 67.3.

The reported percentage for fattening swine is 97 per cent, and their condition 93.7.

RAILWAY LANDS.

Those Containing Minerals a Part of the Public Domain.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] Senator Morgan today introduced a resolution directing the Senate conferees on the Land Grant Forfeiture Bill to insist that all mineral lands granted the Northern Pacific, except coal and iron lands, be disposed of under the mining laws the same as if they were a part of the public domain. Whenever the Northern Pacific shall relinquish its title to any of these mineral lands it shall receive in lieu thereof an equal amount of agricultural or timber lands.

The conferees are instructed further to insist upon a provision declaring that the United States retains the right to amend the act or to hereafter declare further forfeiture of Northern Pacific lands.

He also introduced a resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Interior for full information respecting the number of suits between settlers and the Northern Pacific, the proceedings taken in them, whether the railroad company changed the location of any part of its roads, whether the lands were received along the line of this new section of the road and whether any part of the road was definitely located within the time fixed by the charter.

Speaker Reed's Return. WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Speaker Reed reached Washington this morning and appeared at the Capital at about 11. It was expected he would take his seat at the opening of the session, but he did not respond to the summons of the doorkeeper, and Speaker pro tem. Burrows was called. At 2 o'clock Speaker Reed was given a lunch by about twenty members of the House, including the chairman of the leading committees and those who took part in the Maine campaign. He sat at the head of the table and was evidently in the best of humor with himself and at least as much of mankind as was assembled about him.

The New Apportionment. WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Mr. Dunnell, chairman of the House Committee on the Eleventh Census, today introduced an apportionment bill on the basis of one Representative for each 180,000 of population. This would provide for a total representation of 354.

Under the apportionment Alabama, California, Colorado, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, Oregon, Texas, Washington and Wisconsin would each gain one member; Arkansas, Illinois, Kansas and Tennessee each two and Minnesota and Nebraska three. Ohio and Virginia would each lose one.

The Tariff Bill Passes the Senate.

Forty Yeas to Twenty-nine Nays—The Vote in Detail.

The Senate Will Insist on Its Amendments to the McKinley Bill.

The House Passes the Day in Vain Efforts to Secure a Quorum for the Transaction of Business.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON (D. C.), Sept. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] Senate—Mr. Morgan offered a resolution, which went over till tomorrow, calling on the Secretary of the Interior for a statement concerning the land claims of the Northern Pacific; also a resolution embodying instructions to the Senate conferees on the Land Forfeiture Bill in relation to the lands of the Northern Pacific and other companies. Laid on the table for future action.

The Tariff Bill was then taken up, the question being on its passage, six hours being allowed to close the discussion, after which a vote 45 to be taken.

Mr. Hoar, referring to the reciprocity proposition, said he voted for it yesterday with some hesitation, and should not have done so if he had thought the scheme contained in the amendment was all that was likely to come out of entering on that policy.

Mr. Hoar was followed by Mr. Hiscock. The Democrats then took a turn, Messrs. Gibson, Turpie and Vest speaking in opposition to the bill.

A vote was then taken and the bill passed—yeas, 40; nays, 29, as follows:

Yeas: Aldrich, Allen, Allison, Blair, Cameron, Casey, Chandler, Callum, Davis, Daws, Dixon, Evans, Frye, Hawley, Higginson, Hiram, Jones, Jones (Cal.), McMillan, Manderson, Mitchell, Moody, Paddock, Pierce, Platt, Plumb, Power, Quay, Sanders, Sawyer, Sherman, Spooner, Squire, Stewart, Stockbridge, Teller, Washburn, Wilson (Ia.), Wolcott—40.

Nays: Barbour, Bate, Berry, Blackburn, Blodgett, Butler, Carlisle, Cockrell, Coke, Colquitt, Drexel, Finkner, Gorman, Gray, Harris, Hearst, Jones (Ark.), Keena, Morgan, Pasco, Pugh, Hansom, Reagan, Turpie, Vance, Vest, Voorhees, Walthall, Wilson (Mo.)—29.

The following pairs were announced: Dolph and Brown, Edmunds and George, Farwell and Payne, Hale and McPherson, Morrill and Hampton, Stanford and Gibson, Pettigrew and Call.

Mr. Aldrich moved that the committee insist on its amendments to the House and ask for a conference.

The motion was agreed to and Messrs. Aldrich, Sherman, Allison, Hiscock, McPherson, Vance and Carlisle were appointed conferees on the part of the Senate.

The Senate then adjourned. House—The House was called to order by Speaker pro tem. Burrows.

Mr. O'Ferrall of Virginia raised the point of no quorum present. The Speaker being unable to count a quorum, a call of the House was ordered, but it failed to disclose a quorum.

Mr. Haugen offered a resolution for the arrest of absentees, pending which Mr. O'Ferrall moved an adjournment. The motion was lost. A quorum then appearing present, after some further discussion the journal was read, but when the previous question was ordered on its approval the quorum had again disappeared.

Mr. Haugen offered a resolution revoking all leaves of absence except on account of illness.

Mr. Flower of New York raised the point that the resolution was not in order and the Speaker pro tem. overruled the objection.

Mr. O'Ferrall took an appeal. No quorum being in sight the House, without approving the journal, adjourned.

The Bill of Lading Embroglio.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—At a meeting of the Central Traffic Association today the Lake Shore road administered a quietus to the uniform bill of lading so far as east-bound shipments are concerned. After the Grand Trunk and Lake Shore had defined their opposition, resolutions were adopted recognizing the difficulties of the situation and allowing the use of both forms of bills of lading, though urging the new one wherever practicable. Beyond doubt this has settled the new bill of lading in its present form. It is understood that a committee led by Chairman Blanchard will arrange an early conference with a representative body of Board of Trade merchants with a view to agreeing upon some plan for a bill of lading mutually satisfactory.

A Tammany Brave's Return. NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Richard Croker, the well-known Tammany chief, arrived this morning on the City of New York. He was met at the dock by a number of Tammany leaders and warmly welcomed. He said he was in excellent health, but refused to talk respecting his intentions in the fall campaign.

WILD BEASTS OF INDIA.

SPORTSMEN FIND PLENTY OF EXCITING QUARRIES.

The Wild Boar is the Best and Bravest. The Rhinoceros' Acute Senses of Smell and Hearing—Points on Hunting the Savage Animals.

Of all Indian animals the wild boar is the best and bravest. I have seen a great deal of him, having for many years hunted him on horseback with a line of elephants to drive him out of the thick cover, so that other men well mounted on foot horses might pursue and slay him with their spears. I was but an indifferent performer with the hog spear, and have no feat of prowess to recount, though I once took a first speck, where about ten other men were eager for that honor; but it was a very small boar, and it was quite his own fault that he fell into my hands, for I was sitting smoking at the end of a covert, just thinking of starting for home after a blank morning, when the animal rushed in and in self defense I was obliged to speak it. How angry some of the other men were at my luck, though they did not all know how unmerited it was.

It was most interesting to watch the dodges and devices of a cunning old gray boar as I stood in my howdah and tried to get the elephants to drive him out to a point convenient for the riders. The boar usually had his own ideas as to the line he would take if he were compelled to face the open; but before coming to that last resource he would try everything else. Perhaps it was not heroic conduct on his part, but he would seek to lead the hunters to a place where he would not be obliged to go out and show himself as a blind to the hunters. If there were any of his older sons in the jungle he would rouse them from their hiding places and try to drive them out, to become a vicarious sacrifice.

THE CUNNING BOAR. He would lie down and hide himself in an incredible small patch of grass, so that the elephants might pass by unsuspectingly; or, if too carefully pressed by a loose line, he would charge right at some lolling elephant's legs, and there he would stop, his head and neck raised, and turn aside from a wild boar's charge. It needed much patience and watchfulness to contend with all the wiles of the clever animal. I usually carried a gun loaded with snipe shot, and a charge fired into the grass or bushes just behind where the boar was moving generally started him, and if a chance shot hit him he thought it best to quit the covert and trust to his speed to reach some stronger shelter or swamp impenetrable to elephants and horses.

It takes a very fast horse to catch a full grown boar in a gallop over the open plain, but every hunter who has tried it knows that he must go as hard as he can if he means to spear the animal. I shall not try to repeat the oft told story of the mortal combat that ensued. Oftentimes I could see all the incidents of the chase from my howdah, for not unfrequently the boar when overtaken would jump and be found again to have turned round and look back at the hunters. When men ride really well the boar seldom escapes, unless he has the luck to find some deep swamp through which the horses cannot follow him.

A full grown wild boar in lower Bengal is about thirty inches high, but they are sometimes found as high as thirty inches, and there is a skeleton in the Indian museum in Calcutta of a boar that was forty inches at the shoulder. There is almost as much difference in the anatomy of a wild boar and a tame one as there is between a man-of-war and a merchant ship.

THE RHINOCEROS. In the size of the head the wild boar has a marked superiority, and perhaps this accounts for his great courage, which makes him fearless of everything. One morning, looking out of a railway carriage, I saw a wild boar come charging down at the passing train, but he missed it, for the train was going too fast for him, and he was a little hampered in forcing his way through the wire railway fence.

I had something to do with rhinoceroses, but never succeeded in shooting one, though I sought them for three long and hot days under the guidance of the best sportsmen in Assam, and I visited their haunts in the Sunderbunds with men of great local experience. But rhinoceroses, like all big animals, have acute senses of smell and hearing, and makes off at the slightest indication of danger. We had a large one in the Calcutta Zoo which was very tame, and when it was allowed in the house of which it eventually died, it used to come and lie down to have its ear syringed by the veterinary surgeon, whom it learned to recognize.

There were two fine rhinoceros in the mahaj's menagerie at Burdwan in the enclosure in which the crocodiles were kept, for the pond in which the crocodiles used to swim served also as a bathing place for the rhinoceroses. One day a young pig had been turned into the enclosure to become food for the crocodiles, and as these animals don't travel very fast on land piggy led them a lively chase, and at last, perhaps by chance, it took refuge under the legs of one of the rhinoceros, which was looking on solemnly, but when the crocodiles approached the rhinoceros the latter presented his horn and warned the crocodiles to be off. And so the pig survived and grew up and lived for some months under the protection of the rhinoceroses.—Longman's Magazine.

A Mistaken Notion.

It should be distinctly understood that the idea that ice water is injurious is a mistaken notion, imported with other English fads, like the docking of horses' manes and tails, drawing the vowels and the "stony British stare." Spinners with chronic indigestion, about whom with their interiors in a state of constant inflammation, men whose stomachs are inflamed and people getting over the grip, with internal weak, fevered and irritable to an incredible degree rightly find ice water injurious, as cold water would be poured over a patient in a high fever, or a hot bottle. Cold water is intolerable to an inflamed eye, which finds warm water soothing, and inflamed stomachs rebel against sudden chilling draughts in the same way, but nobody feels that cold water is unsafe for healthy eyes or healthy throats.—Shirley Dare in New York Herald.

That Warm Southern Kiss.

While the kiss of a pretty woman might be considered a harmless compliment anywhere it is doubly a compliment—twice as sweet and romantic—when given beneath the oaks of a moonlit park, with the stars trembling like diamonds through the dewy leaves and the hum of flowing fountains splashing their silver spray over the basins of water nymphs and bronze gods with beautiful blind eyes.—Atlanta Constitution.

TO A FOREST VIOLET.

Alas! alas! how slenderly And frailly thou art made; Thy face so how tenderly Thou smilest in the shade.

The piping birds hop heedlessly Across thy lonely spot; But warbling vireos come needlessly To those who warily not.

The lowly state assigned to thee Beseems thy pensive mood, And every face is kind to thee In thy rich solitude.

Leaves with delight thy covers are, From noon day's scorching glare; The dew of night thy lovers are, And cherish thee with care.

What son of man can look within Thy dark hues simple face, And fall to scan the book within Thy pure and perfect grace?

Our world bound hearts are dutiful To yield their homage now, Where, from a forest and beautiful, Sweet nature's child art thou.

Oh, with scorn but lowliness We deem the earth and air; What thou wert born in holiness, We in inquiry.

Friend of our souls! we come with thee Where reverent feet have trod, And our sin-swept souls are dumb with thee, Before our father—God.

Bret Harte in London.

Bret Harte is now living in a quiet cottage in Grove End road, near St. John's wood. He is getting old and his hair is white; but the novelist still retains all his old fire. His books sell immensely in England—more than those of any other American writer. Mr. Harte's family is not with him, and the general impression in London is that he is a widower. Mr. Joseph Hatton, a warm friend and neighbor of Mr. Harte, informs me that he is now in the convalescent service. No American is invited into the best English society more than Bret Harte. His American stories warm the English heart. They never tire of the novelist's story about the first jury trial in California, and this is the way he told it the other night.

"It was over in the Mariposa Gulch in '50. It was never a jury trial there."

If a man stole a horse they lynched him, and that settled it. But the people, many of whom came from Massachusetts, began to tire of lynch law and sigh for the good old jury trial of the east. So one day, when Bill Stevens had jumped a poor man's claim, the Massachusetts fellows resolved to give him a good, old fashioned jury trial. They took him into the back end of the board postoffice, selected a jury, and the trial commenced. Dozens of witnesses were called, and finally the jury retired to agree on a verdict. When they came back, they found that Jim was innocent, the boys outside came banging at the door.

"What do you fellows want?" asked the foreman through the keyhole.

"We want to know if you ain't about agreed on the verdict. If you ain't you'll have to get out. We want this room to hold the case in."—Eli Perkins in Chicago Inter Ocean.

Proportions of the Body.

The proportions of the human body as given by the best authorities are as follows, the length of the head being the standard of measurement: From the bottom of chin to top of head, one-half length of head; from top of head to top of crown, one-half length of head; from top of crown to top of occiput, one-half length of head; from top of occiput to top of back of head, one-half length of head; from top of back of head to top of shoulders, one-half length of head; from top of shoulders to top of elbows, one-half length of head; from top of elbows to top of wrists, one-half length of head; from top of wrists to top of hands, one-half length of head; from top of hands to top of fingers, one-half length of head; from top of fingers to tip of longest finger, one-half length of head; from tip of longest finger to tip of middle finger, one-half length of head; from tip of middle finger to tip of ring finger, one-half length of head; from tip of ring finger to tip of little finger, one-half length of head; from tip of little finger to tip of thumb, one-half length of head; from tip of thumb to tip of index finger, one-half length of head; from tip of index finger to tip of middle finger, one-half length of head; from tip of middle finger to tip of ring finger, one-half length of head; from tip of ring finger to tip of little finger, one-half length of head; from tip of little finger to tip of thumb, one-half length of head; from tip of thumb to tip of index finger, one-half length of head; from tip of index finger to tip of middle finger, one-half length of head; WORDS ABOUT WINE.
A New Yorker Who Knows
the Right Article.CALIFORNIA WINE-GROWERS,
And the Glorious Opportunity They Have—Notes and Comments—
Personal and Bre-
vities, Etc.

THE TIMES reporter yesterday ran up against a gentleman who has been "doing" the State and who was in town between trains, preparatory to returning to his home in New York. "I'll be back before the holidays," he said, "to start a winery. But don't give away my name, for it will only be a stumbling block in the way of perfecting my plans. I have made a careful study of the wine business for some years past and my idea is that California is the place to turn out the proper article. That's why I'm coming."

"California is selling a good deal of wine in the Eastern States," the speaker continued, growing communicative. "Some of it is good, more of it is not good. The latter class is not good simply because of the lack of care and watchfulness in the wine-making process. Comparatively little—though positively a good deal—of the California wine is 'manipulated.' I mean the proportion of your 'doctored' wines, though, is relatively small, compared with the great quantity of fair-to-middling and really good wine produced on the coast."

"California can and does produce quite as good wines as any part of France or Spain. The advantages are all in favor of this State. Its soil and climate are exactly adapted to the growing of all varieties of grapes, which flourish here in such rich abundance. Moreover, the California sun is more intense than any they ever experienced in Eastern France, or in the brassy district of that country. Hence the California wines ought to have more 'body' than any of the French or German wines."

"We ought to get from California several kinds of wine quite equal, each in its own way, to the Burgundy and best Rhine wines of Europe. The French wines and brandies are all more or less manipulated; most of them are fraudulent. A very small proportion of the French champagne sold in the United States can anywhere near being the genuine article. Your California wines of the champagne variety are very apt to be 'made too fast in too warm rooms. With due care and attention they could be made equal to the best. The cheap wines made here which retail in the Eastern cities at $1.50 and $2.50 per gallon vary a good deal in character, some being poor and some pretty fair, but the fact remains that too much of it is inferior. The same thing is true of every case of 'Old Port' that is exported from Oporto to London. Practically all this country gets of it comes through the London docks after being well fortified with cheap brandy to suit the English taste. "The same thing is true of every case of 'Old Port' that is exported from Oporto to London. Practically all this country gets of it comes through the London docks after being well fortified with cheap brandy to suit the English taste. "California wines could probably be made quite as good as the best real Port, but more care will have to be taken with the process than seems to be given to it now. California wine growers have a great opportunity, did they but know it. A good and cheap pure wine from this quarter would soon command the market of the Eastern States, and in no long time would make inroads upon the European market. I'll be out here pretty soon to convince you that what I say is true."

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The town was quiet yesterday, the natural reaction after Tuesday's festivities.

We publish today some interesting figures bearing on the municipal receipts and expenditures during the last quarter.

The two pugilists who lately met in a fist encounter near town are said to look much alike. At any rate they had a striking resemblance.

A man who knows considerable about wine and how to make it has his say today. Some of his statements may not be palatable to our wine manufacturers, but their truth will be generally admitted and perchance some profit may be obtained by acting on the hints he gives.

It is a matter of surprise and regret that the Raymond has set as late a date as December 18 for its opening. The chances are that many more Eastern tourists will visit here this winter than last season, and the fact that the hotel did not meet expenses during last November is hardly a criterion to go by. Here is a chance for the Webster to open and grow popular before its big rival gets in the field.

If Catalina hopes to maintain its popularity among Pasadenaites, its sanitary system must be improved and better accommodations provided for its guests. A number of our people who spent some time on the island this summer were forced home by malarious complaints, induced undoubtedly by the imperfect drainage system of this lovely resort, while general dissatisfaction is expressed over the manner of conducting the larger hotels. The management should take to mind the fact of the island's rapidly increasing hot-weather population and act promptly in correcting the existing evils. Otherwise the place will lose the generous patronage Pasadena has always given it.

BREVITIES.

The Salvation Army has temporarily disbanded.

The collection of municipal taxes was begun yesterday morning.
